(even if you registered last year, login to ensure your information is correct)

What is Scholastics?

For 93 years, the Scholastic Art & Writing Awards have recognized the exceptional vision of our nation's youth.

Established in 1923 by Scholastic Inc. founder Maurice R. Robinson, the Scholastic Awards have grown to become the nation's highest honor and largest source of scholarships for creative teens. Through a nationwide partner network of more than 100 Affiliates, the 2016 Awards received nearly 320,000 submissions spanning 29 categories of art and writing. Students are encouraged by their educators, both in schools and through out-of-school programs, to submit their original work. All students in grades 7 through 12, whether in public, private, or home schools, can apply.

Follow the Scholastics Blog for updates on national events: <http://blog.artandwriting.org/>

What is NEFSAA?

NEFSAA or Northeast Florida Scholastic Art Awards is the regional affiliate for the national Scholastic Art Awards. NEFSAA handles the regional adjudication, awards, and art exhibition. Gold Key winners at the regional level go on to the national competition.
